Good Morning,

I am writing regarding the certificate of correction that we talked about over the phone on Wednesday, I believe. The following is where the corrections are to be inserted:

Col. 4, line 31 reads: "combustion engine, said device comprising" and should read: "combustion engine, said device comprising;"

Col. 5, line 2 reads: "combustion engine, said method comprising" and should read: "combustion engine, said method comprising;"

At Col. 4, lines 34, reads: "nal combustion engine," and should read "nal combustion engine;" (removing the comma, adding the semicolon)

At Col. 4, line 39, reads "tion of the first measured variable and" and should read "tion of the first measured variable; and" (adding semicolon)

At Col. 5, line 4, reads "of the internal combustion engine," and should read "of the internal combustion engine;" (removing the comma, adding the semicolon)

At Col. 5, line 16, reads "velocity of an internal combustion engine," and should read "velocity of an internal combustion engine;" (removing the comma, adding the semicolon)

At Col. 5, line 20, reads "measured variable and" and should read "measured variable; and" (adding semicolon)

If you have any more questions feel free to contact me.

Best Regards,

Peter Lalos
